The "Vols for Ellington" organization was kicked off on campus last Friday by a meeting of interested students with Steve Parks, who is in charge of the "Youth for Ellington" campaign.

Dan Blair was chosen as chairman of the group, and some organizational plans were made.

'Y' Dorm To Hold Open House Sun.

Open House will be held April 24, by residents of "Y" Dormitory for women at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch.

Mrs. Julia Austin, dean of women, Mrs. Zula Capps, dormitory hostess, and Miss Carol Warmbrod, president of the dormitory council will greet the guests, and residents of the dorm will serve as guides.

Faculty, staff and citizens of Martin are invited to call from 1 to 3 p.m. Students are invited to attend from 3 to 5 p.m.

"Y" dorm, a new air-conditioned residence hall housing 264 women students, was completed and occupied in the fall quarter 1965. It is the first unit of three dormitories of this type in the process or to be constructed within the next year and a half.

The rooms are the suite-type with connecting bath for four occupants to a suite of two rooms.

Signs will be placed on University Street and Mount Pella Road April 24, giving directions to the main entrance of the dormitory on Hurt Street Extended, on South Campus.

Teaching Award To Be Presented

This year for the first time a Distinguished Teaching Award will be made to an outstanding teacher on the University faculty.

Nominations will be received from students, faculty, and alumni. Screening of the list of nominations will be done by procedures similar to those used by Knoxville in selecting their award recipients. The finalists will be judged by means of questionnaires filled out by their students and department heads. The winner will be announced at Honors Day, or if the selection process is not complete at that time, at Commencement.

Ballots were sent to a random sampling of students. If other students wish to make a nomination, they should do so by securing a ballot form at the bookstore, filling out and returning by campus mail to: Selection Committee, Distinguished Teaching Award. The deadline on receipt of nominations is April 30.

Students To Get Info On Election

Ira Orr, chairman of the Projects Committee of the Circle K Club, has announced that Circle K will distribute information sheets on all candidates in the upcoming Student Government elections.

The purpose of these sheets will be to stimulate student interest in the elections and to give students a clear picture of each candidate's qualifications.

Candidates will have the opportunity to make a short statement on the information sheet. The information sheet will be distributed by April 25.

Lettermen Trio Will Appear In Campus Concert May 17

Boasting a fresh vocal blend, The Lettermen, Capitol recording stars, will appear in concert in the Fieldhouse May 17. Tickets are $2 in advance and $2.50 at the door. They may be obtained from the SG office.

Their albums sell in the millions, their coast-to-coast concerts are complete sell-outs, their night club appearances break records everywhere and their college dates draw larger crowds than any other vocal attraction.

A performing group as well as a vocal group, The Lettermen are in great demand on television too. They were first spotted by George Burns who told Jack Benny, who told Red Skelton, who told Ed Sullivan who told the world--"The lettermen are great." They've starred on all these TV programs and the reaction was so strong they've been invited back time and time again.

The Lettermen appeared at more than 350 colleges throughout the country and even now are on their way back for repeat performances.

Individually, Tony Butala, Jim Pike and Bob Engemann had been group vocalists for some time, Tony singing in a quartet and Jim and Bob in trios. Tony and Jim met during a shift in one of the vocal groups that brought Jim to audition for Tony's group. It was at this time that the two discovered they had a magnificent blend of voices. And it was at this time that Jim told Tony he had only once previously run into someone with whose voice his blended so well. His name was Bob Engemann. Jim had met Bobby at Brigham Young University. When the group disbanded, Tony and Jim decided to find Bob, who was now in Los Angeles. Thus was born "The Lettermen."

The boys try to fill the gap by giving the public, adults as well as the youngsters, what they want to hear.

Tony, Jim and Bob, whose Capitol Records have sold in the millions, love their work to the point where it is not actually work at all. When they're not singing on stage, they're more than likely off in a corner singing for pure enjoyment. They rehearse no matter where they are and usually end up singing for a group of fascinated fellow travelers. Often they'll travel coach in the air so they can sit three abreast as they fly. They get a kick out of it as they start to sing softly to dirty looks, but once they get going, it usually ends up with, "Do you know . . .?"

Contrary to most vocal groups, the boys all have the same range and interchange body line, top or bottom. They feel another reason for their success is the fact that all do solos which make them much more interesting to watch. On the nitery floor they also throw in comedy, vocal impressions and play instruments.

The Lettermen are not just a vocal group. They are entertainers.

Spivey, Weaver On Campus Today For Conferences

Dr. Herman H. Spivey, Vice-president of the University in charge of academic affairs and Dean Charles Weaver, college of Engineering at Knoxville, are on campus today.

Dr. Spivey met with the Martin Branch curriculum committee, department heads, and other individuals as time permitted.

Dean Weaver also met with the curriculum committee and with members of the engineering faculty.

A special conference with Dr. Spivey, Dean Weaver, Chancellor Paul Meek, Mr. James O. Jones and Dr. Norman Campbell explored opportunities for developing a wider engineering program.

Also, Dr. Spivey has received an invitation from Student Government President Larry Bates to have dinner with members and sponsors of the Student Government at the Park Terrace Restaurant. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss informally the opportunities of Student Government on this campus.

Dr. Spivey and Dean Weaver also attended a meeting of the American Chemical Society Kentucky Lake Section Wednesday night at which H. F. Johnson, head of Chemical Engineering at Knoxville spoke.

Young Announces SG Candidacy

Roland Young, a sophomore in engineering from Enville, officially announced his candidacy for the office of Student Government Vice-president and was approved by the Credentials Committee on April 14.

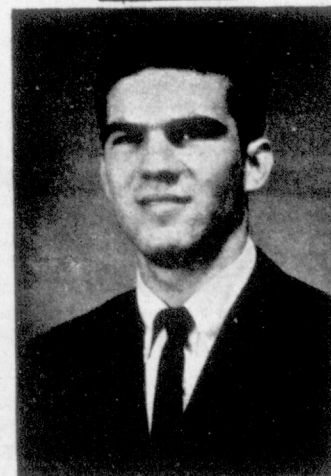

Roland stated that for the Student Government to continue to improve, its leaders will have to be unbiased and not obligated to any interest groups but rather work for the entire student body. He further said that there needs to be more cooperation between students and less "don't care" attitude on the part of many students.

Roland also said that too many groups are "pulling in different directions" while they should be working toward a common goal--a united Student Government. He promised "to work toward creating more interest among students in all school functions."

The Student Government elections are to be held on April 26 in the Student Senate room of the Old Science Building. ID cards must be presented.

Interviews To Be Held

W. E. Albright, State administrative officer for the Soil Conservation Service, will be interviewing on campus Wednesday, April 27. Appointments may be scheduled in the Placement Office.

All Votes Count At Polls

The most crucial election on this campus will be Tuesday. Legislative and executive officers of Student Government for the coming year are to be elected.

These five offices are perhaps the most important elected positions held by any students on campus. For this very reason your vote is very important. These officers represent every student on campus whether they live on campus or commute.

Many students feel that their vote is not important, but this is not the case. Every vote is cast singly and joins a multitude of others to decide the results of the election. When you begin to think that your vote is unimportant, remember that it counts equally with all the votes.

Technically, one vote won't make any difference, but when all those single votes are placed together a winner and a loser is the result: and if you don't vote, you have no business complaining when some phase of the campus life and activities does not suit you.

Show an interest in your alma mater; consider the candidates; consider their platforms and their qualifications. Then, take your ID card and go to the Student Senate room of the Old Science room and cast your ballot.

Starring Role Of 'The Alligators' Will Be Played By Vet Thespian

BILLYE WAINCOTT

When the curtain rises on May 5 for the presentation of "The Alligators," one of the two spring quarter Vanguard plays, the lead will be played by Billye Waincott, a sophomore in secondary education from Kenton.

In this play, Billye plays the part of Francis Flint, the "ex-moll" of a dead gangster. In addition to her part in this play, she has appeared in four other Vanguard plays. She has had roles as a dancer, a bride, the other woman in "Death of a Salesman" and the incomparable Rosalie, magician and assistant, in "Carnival."

In addition to her credits in the Vanguard Theatre, Billye has acted in many high school plays before coming to Martin. She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega, professional drama fraternity, and Sigma Tau Delta, professional English fraternity.

When asked if she tried to "live her part," she replied that she did on the stage but dropped the character upon leaving the theatre.

Billye said that she enjoyed both comedies and dramas equally well, even though comedies seemed easier to do. She stated that she had rather do musicals, for she loves to sing and dance.

This may be Billye's last play as she is planning to be married and may transfer to Knoxville.

Anyone who would like to see her as Francis Flint in "The Alligators" may do so on May 5-7. Another one-act play, "The Browning Version" will also be presented at that time.

A special Acting Award was presented to Billye last year for her performance in "Little Mary Sunshine."

Kentucky Lake Fishing 'Lures' Student Anglers

By DARRELL ROWLETT

Warm weather sends amateur anglers stalking the shores, wading the waves, and boating on the blue waters. Students searching for successful fishing trips should observe nearby Kentucky Lake, located on the Tennessee River, 50 miles east of Martin.

Famous for mid-April crappie runs, Kentucky Lake, the world's largest man-made lake, offers year round fishing made possible by prolific spawning in favorable waters. Using minnows for bait and fishing in the coves over stumps, brush piles, and tree tops, the weekend student angler can fill his creel for five weeks after the crappie begin spawning. Largemouth bass are also caught in April with the bait caster using underwater lures along the main shoreline. Crappie and bass do not reach their peak again till the early Autumn months.

Fly fishing is extremely good in May after a Mayfly (willow fly) hatch. Bluegill and bass hit top-water bugs and flies.

Northern sportsmen are amazed at the size of Tennessee fish--14-pound largemouth bass, 11-pound smallmouth bass, 4 - pound crappie. Ice-free waters and a mild climate permit fish to feed and grow for long periods each year enabling Kentucky Lake championship catches.

With more than 2,300 miles of wooded shoreline and countless tributaries and embankment, the ragged Kentucky Lake shores stretch 184 miles south of Kentucky Dam with 40 miles in Kentucky and 144 miles flowing through the heart of western Tennessee. The very bulk of the lake assures the fisherman plenty of room for sport, and there is no limit on crappie, bluegill, white bass, or catfish.

One of Kentucky Lake's finest features is Buchanan Resort, located on Eagle Creek where the famed Big Sandy and Tennessee Rivers meet. With over 90 underwater drop-offs (where crappie, northern pike, and bass stay during the hot summer months), the mouth of the Big Sandy provides the best area for fishing on the lake.

Buchanan Resort recommends that first-trip fishermen on the lake hire a guide, the only exception being during the latter two weeks of April and the first two weeks of June. During this time crappie are caught on minnows in shallow water while spawning. Everything needed for successful outings can be found at the resort--launching ramp, sand beach, boat dock, boats and motors, minnows and worms, ice, sporting goods, guides, and groceries.

Equipped with a cane pole and minnows, most any student can catch fish this weekend, as Kentucky Lake will see the best crappie fishing of the season.

Another successful fishing probability is Reelfoot Lake, located 40 miles west of town. Lying sunken between the cypress trees, the lake holds herds of small crappie which can be caught night or day. Reasonable boat rental rates and proximity make angling in the stump filled waters of "Earthquake Lake" economically feasible for students.

Ponds and nearby streams also offer fishing fanatics hours of after class casting.

For those of us fond of fishing, spring is the best of the year -- not too hot, nor cold -- the fish love it, just like the fisherman.

New Era Open In Police Work

Two Portage County, Ohio, sheriff deputies followed a "bribe circular" unidentified object yesterday from Atwater, Ohio, to Freedom, Pa., a distance of 85 miles.

The pair was investigating a routine traffic accident. Then the two were alerted by radio, to be on the lookout for an object headed their way.

The object was witnessed and chased by three different police departments in the area, although Air Force headquarters in the area said they had no report on the UFO.

This may be the beginning of a new era of police work. Soon policemen may be chasing UFO's instead of traffic violators.

After the Rebels jumped to a 1-0 lead, the Orangemen took advantage of infield errors to knot the score in the second inning. Holding the Volunteers to only six scattered hits, the Rebs pushed across two runs in the fifth and seventh innings.

Eddie Eckert continued to pace UTMB batters. Eckert was two for four at the plate to continue his .500 average. Jim White also collected two hits.
